would weigh in on the priority order of where they put the projects. Mr. Sata replied that the intent is actually to approve the tool, assessments, and all the things that go into making that tool; the board is not approving the specific projects that will launch first as those are going to come back with a project initiation form so that they can be approved and the board can have the appropriate dialogue on a going-basis. Ms. Ramos added that in approving the tool, the assessments are very specific, so
